SWAT THE FLY SIGHT WORD GAME

1. Overview

Sight Words Fly Swat is a game for building speed and confidence with identifying sight words. The adult says a word, and the child has to spot the word and splat it with a fly swat. Children find the physicality of the activity fun, and this game is a perennial favorite.

Sight Words Fly Swat is a great way of giving your child(ren) the repetition they need to achieve mastery while keeping them engaged. Because the game is so physical, it is a good game for channeling their energy when they are feeling a bit wiggly.

2. Materials

The game requires a fly swatter and the Sight Words Fly Cards that the children will “splat.”

2.1 Fly Swatter

- Plastic fly swatter(s)

Get a fly swatter for use in the game. For younger children, a fly swatter with a shorter handle is easier to use and aim. If you are teaching multiple students at the same time, some extra swatters in different colors will come in handy.

2.2 Sight Words Fly Cards

- Cardstock paper (approximately 110 lb / 200 gsm)
- Printer
- Scissors

To make the fly cards, download and print out the relevant set of Sight Words Fly Cards, preferably on cardstock paper. Cut out the bugs with the scissors.

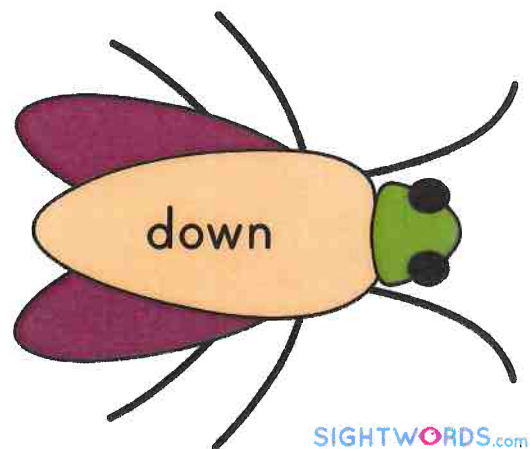

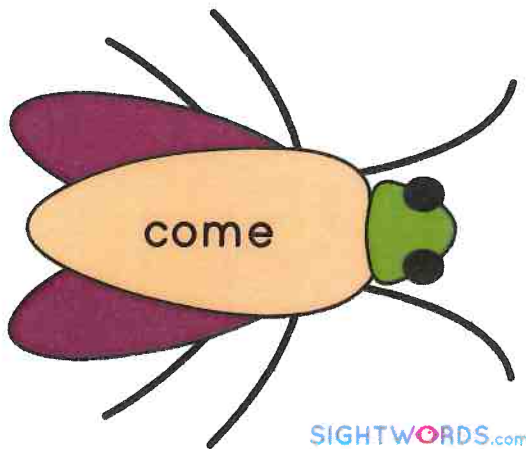

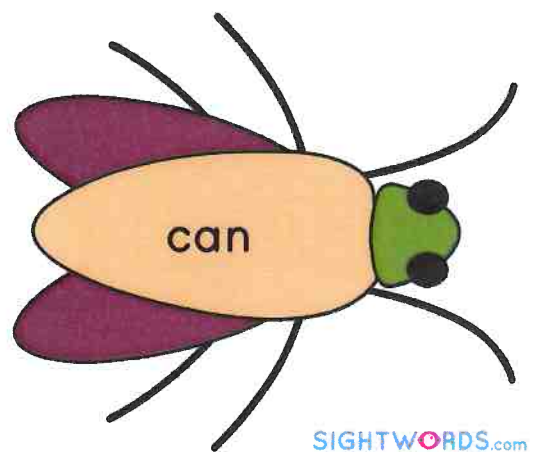

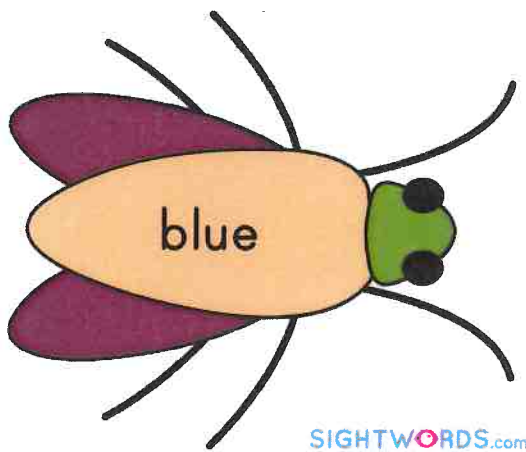

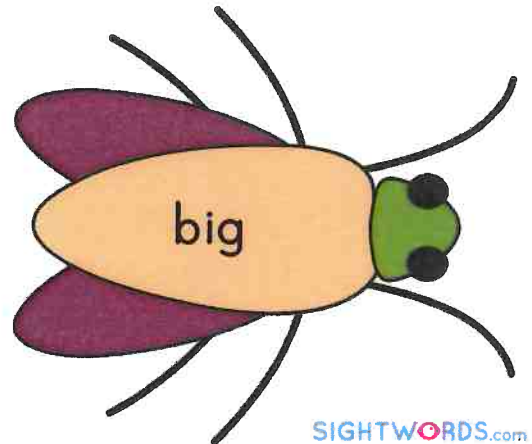

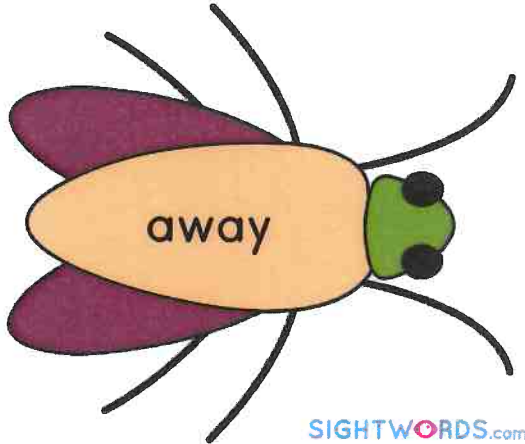

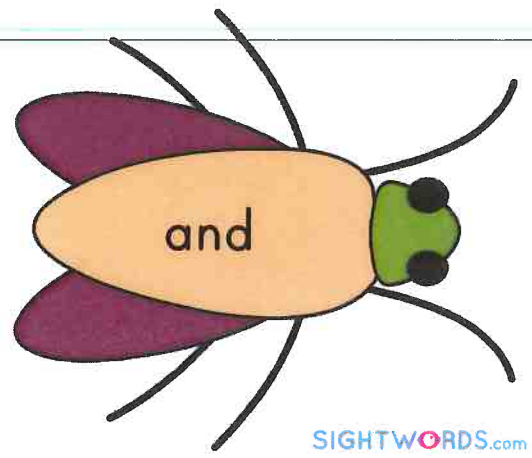

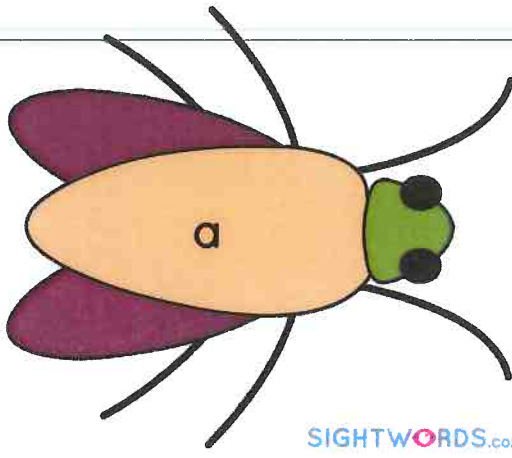

3. Activity

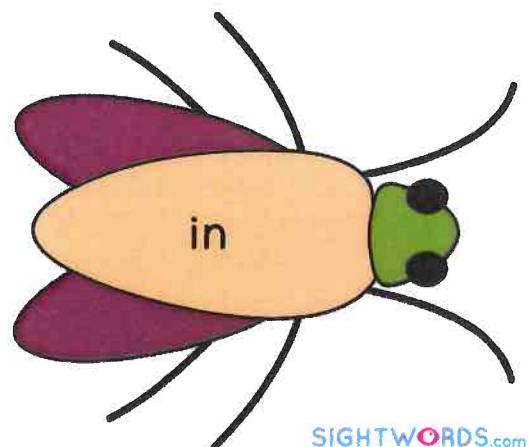

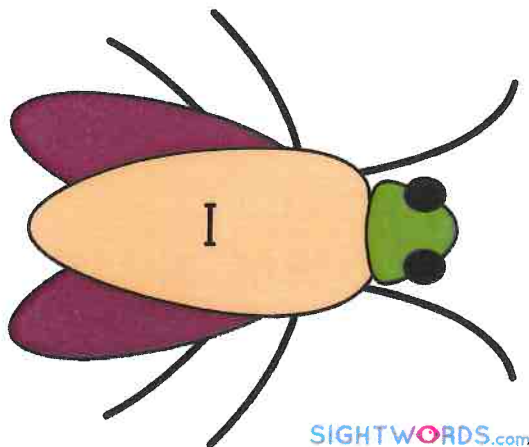

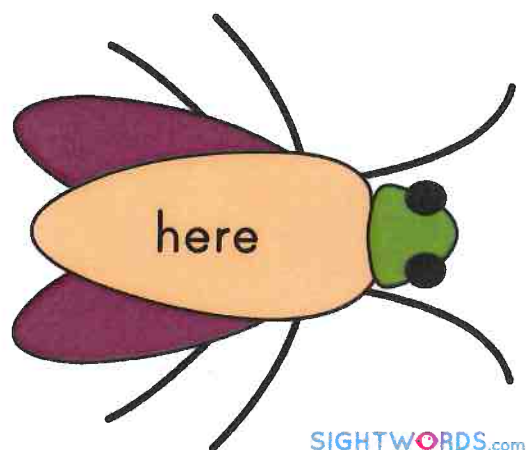

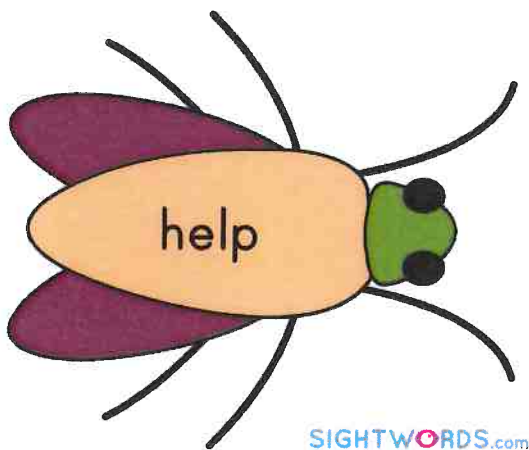

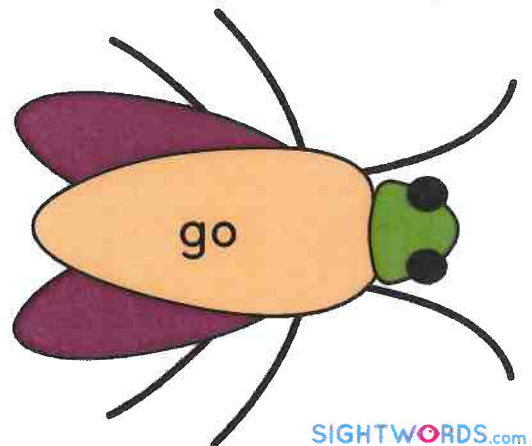

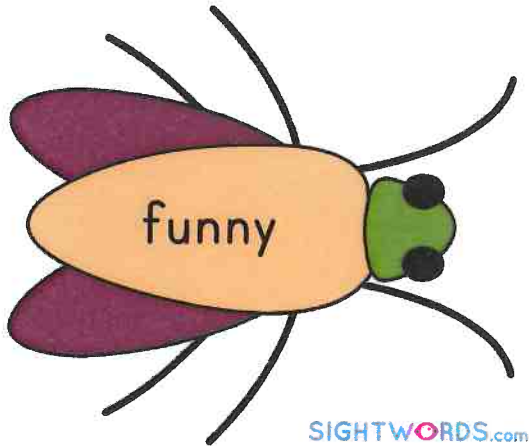

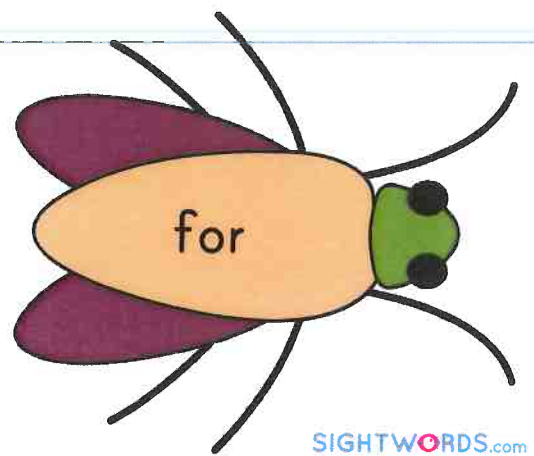

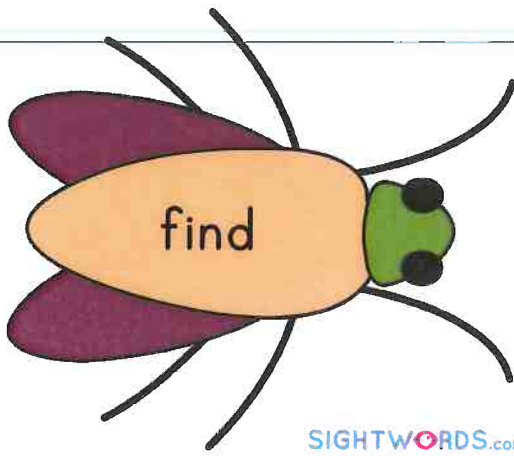

Set up the game by placing the fly cards out on a table, well spaced out, and word side up. The adult calls out one word at a time. The child must find the word among the fly cards on the table and then “splat” the word with their fly swatter while repeating the word.

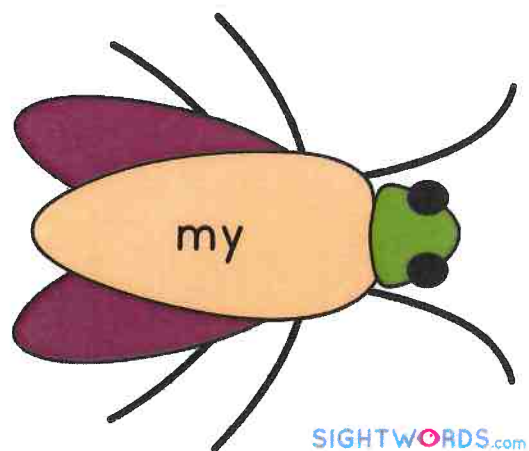

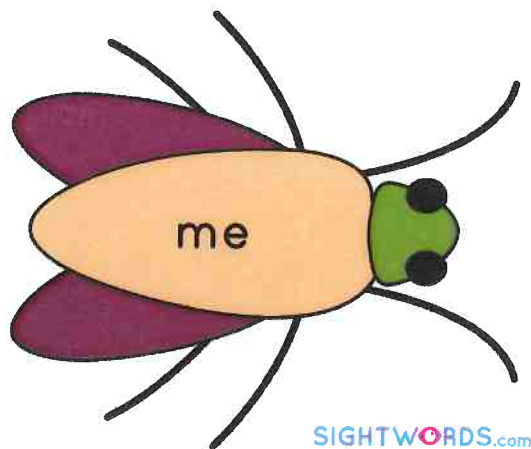

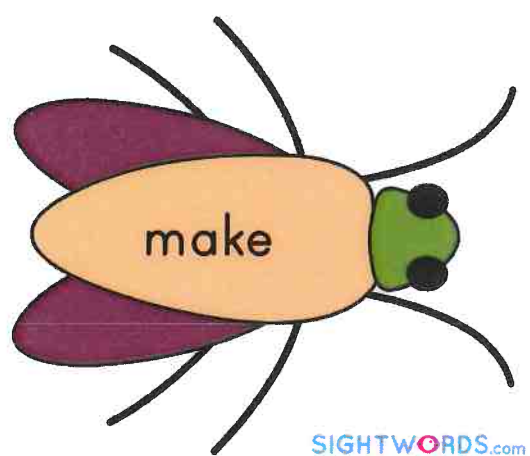

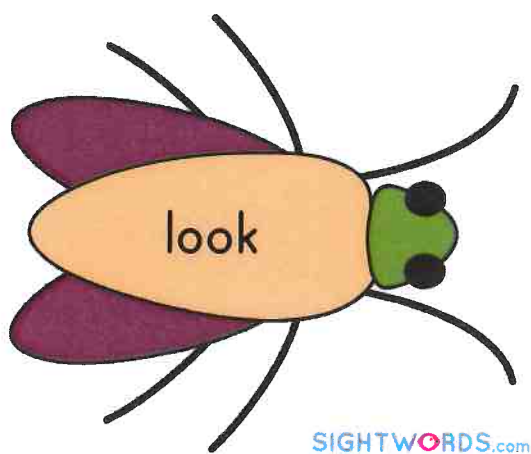

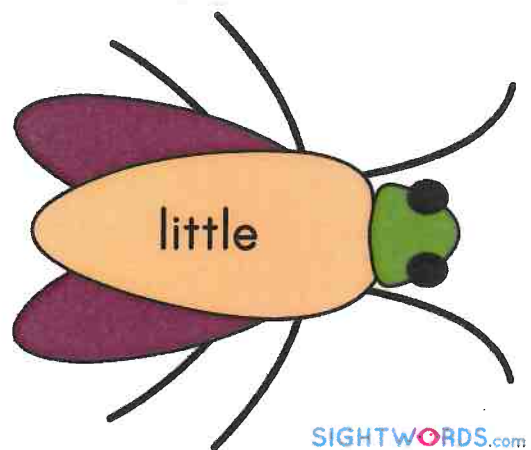

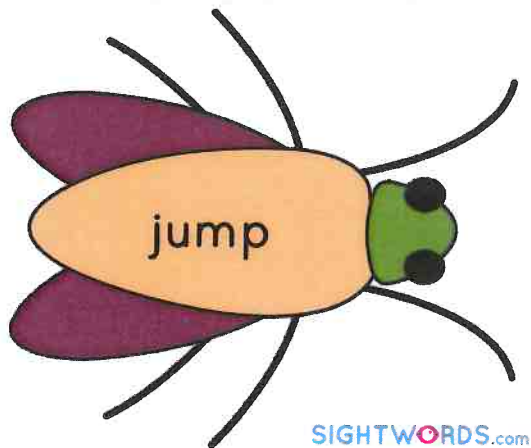

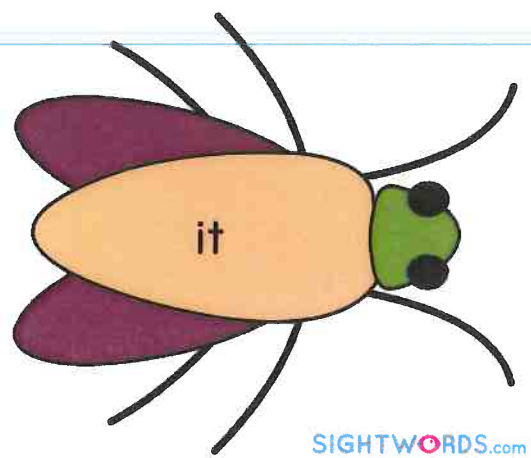

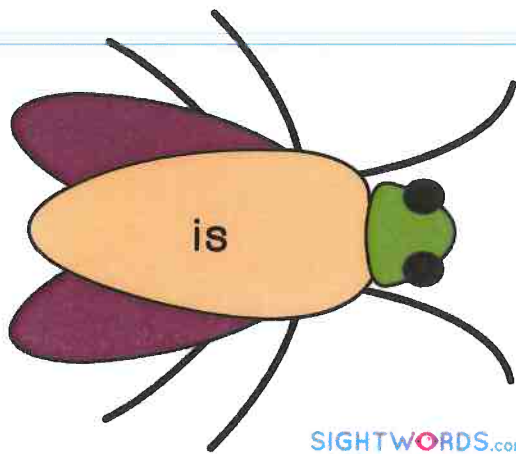

For a child that is just starting with sight words, you will begin with around five fly cards. As the child gets more advanced, you can add more words, and words that are deliberately chosen to be similar so that they are harder to distinguish.
